

ELVIS PRESLEY: ALL I NEED WAS THE RAIN

Hello misfortune,
how's my old friend
"Mr. Misery"?
I've been away so long I bet you think you saw the last of me

Got no bed, to rest my head
No doors or walls or window pane
Now all I needed was the rain
Rain, rain, rain, rain

Met a little honey
at the "Buzzin' Bumble Bee Cafe"
Yes I did
One drink and all my money and that honey bee had flown away

I'm 'bout as low, as I can go
I don't really mean to complain
Now all I needed was the rain
Rain, rain, rain, rain
All I needed was this rain
All I needed was the rain, um, um

"All I Need was the Rain" is a song by Elvis Presley from the album Elvis sings flaming star. It was written by Sid Wayne and Ben Weisman. It was recorded on October 2, 1967 at RCA's Nashville Studios. It featured in his 1968 film Stay Away, Joe. In the film version Elvis talks at the end and dogs howl in the background. Gerry McLafferty describes the song as "being bluesy, a welcome addition to the film"

(information from Wikipedia)